Opposite page top: Father Time has watched over the lives of many students, teachers, and others as the years slowly ticked by. Middle: Time has come again for the 1983-84 academic year at Wind River High School as it becomes another year in the lives of many people. Bottom: Math has the same effect on Del Howery as the taste of Kaopectate has on others. Immuned to this cruel and unusual punishment are Johanne Wanstall, Marc Griebel, and Dwight Harris. Center: As the year rolled on, the students' lives included extracurricular activities. The Boy's State Basketball Tournament provided more entertainment than just basketball. While the festivities were being held at the Casper Events Center, Bob Hutchins and Scott Inman were occupied as they compared vital statistics and figures after the game. Meanwhile, Jerry Looney, Matt Fox, and Deanna Hyatt assured their accuracy. Insert: Studying played a major role during the day. While Cami Scheer studies the art of photography, Randy Dolcater examines human anatomy. This page center: Spirits rise as students combine their enthusiasm to fill the gym with sounds of jubilation. Bottom: A special moment, shared between Laura Weliever and Kevin Annan, is captured for all time as this dance creates priceless memories.

84 glided by

Time spent at school was a way of life for many WRHS students. In fact, it was like a home to many, especially those who put a lot of themselves into this otherwise desolate brick building. Within these walls which housed each individual, they shared each other's lives and became a family.

Those individuals who bestowed upon their family a fragment of themselves, breathed new life and hope into the restrictive, everyday routine, and thus eased some of the anguish felt by the more timid members of the family. These contributions ranged from greeting another student when passing down the hall, taking time out to show others the way, and assisting a fellow student in a time of need. All the incidents added together made up a large unit linked to the closeness the students shared.

The closeness of the upperclassmen enveloped the freshmen after their arrival to make them feel at home. It took a while for them to feel comfortable and secure, but eventually they adjusted and became a major organ in this student body. As the newcomers replaced a part of the body that had been lost last year, so the class of 1988 will substitute for the class of '84, the heart of this structure after their time runs out.

Paths opened in free time

Life outside of the Wind River High School dispersed into different paths as students used their time for other activities. During the week, some were employed at various jobs at home or in town. As the weekend or vacation slowly approached, high hopes for a great time were envisioned in the students' minds. At last, the free-time came, and some students were found in Riverton's bowling alleys, eating establishments or movie theaters while others simply spent their time cruising main or stayed home. Some passed their time with their involvement in their hobbies and special interests such as horse back riding, playing video games, shopping, or travelling. Though whatever the students did in their spare time, they were always eager to return to school the following school day.

Worldwide issues affected WRHS

News in the surrounding community affected the daily lives of the WRHS students and faculty. On October 20, 1983 the house of Mr. Robert Blackwell, the school principal, was fired upon by two former WRHS students. Fortunately, nobody was injured in the shooting. The two were apparently drinking at the time because of the empty beer can alongside the empty rifle cartridges. The youngest of the two was sentenced to at least one year in the Wyoming Industrial Institute at Worland. He was also ordered to pay a restitution of $4,231.13 to Mr. Blackwell. The sentence also gave the authorities at the institute the right to transfer this individual to the Wyoming State Hospital at Evanston to undergo alcohol treatment or mental evaluation. The other involved with the gunfire was sentenced to spend a year in the County Jail and permitted to attend the Lander Valley High School during the school day. Other local news included the record low temperatures during the winter and the severe spring snow storm which killed hundreds of cattle and sheep. The controversial Wind River School District bond issue made its debut once again. The opposition distributed petitions to hinder the bond issue from being placed on the ballot. Despite the opposition's efforts, the supporters tried to clarify the need of a new school building. These actions in the school's environment reflected on the students at Wind River.

National and international news also influenced the lives of those students and faculty members as well. On September 1, 1983, the world's fingers pointed at the Soviet Union after they fired missiles on the Korean Air Lines Flight 007 that invaded the Soviet air space and didn't establish communications on Russian radio. Because of this outrageous conduct, 269 people aboard were slaughtered. U.S. President Ronald Reagan expectedly charged the Soviets for the KAL 'massacre'. He demanded that they admit their outburst and make payments to the families of the people that they murdered. However, Moscow ignored Reagan's threats. Meanwhile, the U.S. Marines were trying to maintain peace in Beirut, Lebanon when on October 23, 1983 a suicidal jeep carrying two tons of TNT darted through the gates of the headquarters and crashed into the barracks, killing 241 men after the collision. The U.S. invasion of Grenada shocked the world on October 25, 1983 as troops moved in to save the American medical students from Cuban forces. Britain had already started receiving the U.S. cruise missiles when the West German Parliament voted to accept the new U.S. Pershing II missiles on November 22, 1983. The next day, Russia walked out of Geneva arms reduction talks, postponing hopes for a nuclear freeze. To start off the new year, Mr. Reagan journeyed to Korea and China to improve diplomatic relations. In May in a show of power, the Soviets boycotted the Summer Olympic Games at Los Angeles. Several other Soviet Block countries followed Moscow's example and these countries held their own games. These issues of the world and others gained the interest of everyone at Wind River.

ACTIVITIES

Custom rules

Homecoming at Wind River was a success despite the loss of the football game. The theme "Nursery Rhymes" was expressed through the floats that paraded around the football field for judging during lunch time. Many activities took place during the week-long celebration. The students really showed a lot of spirit during the Best Smile Day, Dress-Up Day, Crazy Day, and Purple and White Day. Topping off the week was the Wind River Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America's school dinner. This was followed by a pep rally with class yells and skits.

Instead of a plain old float, this year the new idea of turning the school into a float was tried. The letters were constructed of wood and paper. Coronation of the homecoming royalty followed the fire. Crowned as King and Queen were seniors Matt Fox and Jani Scheer. Their senior attendants were Ken Smith and Laura Weliver. Bob Hutchins and Robin Nipper were selected as the junior attendants and Cami Scheer and Justin Wilcox represented the sophomore class. Pat Hutchins and Shauna Weliver were the freshmen attendants. Another attraction of the evening was the recognition of the senior football and volleyball players and their parents.

A special addition to the student body and school was revealed also during Homecoming. This was the school mascot, Charlie the Cougar. He was purchased by the Recreation Board for School District Number Six.

Homecoming came to an end with the semi-formal dance sponsored by the Student Council with the music provided by Rock on Wheels.

WR Thespians entertained

The speech and drama class kicked off its year with the Seventy Annual Dinner Theatre. "Going With the Wind" was staged by the speech and drama class under the direction of Miss Jones. The comedy was set on an old southern plantation. Mr. Nyberg and his art classes assisted in the construction of the set. Music from nearly a century ago was presented. Southern food was served both evenings to the crowd of nearly two hundred people. On the menu this year was southern fried chicken, biscuits and gravy, peas, a fruit cup and topped off with a slice of pecan pie. The meal was catered by Creative Catering from Riverton and volunteer students served the meal under the direction of Miss Nelson and Mrs. Newkirk.

In conjunction with the music department "The Nutcracker Suite" was enacted by the speech and drama class at the Christmas program. Mickie Manile assisted Miss Jones with the directing and Linda Richard provided the music for the group at the synthesizer.

In addition to these two main events, the class participated in speech meets. They attended the Speech & Drama Festival this year at Rock Springs. The troupe also planned to perform a one-act drama at the end of the school year.

Cougars lite up the nite

Four major dances kept the student body fired up during the year. Football and volley ball Homecoming started the year off. Rock on Wheels, the D.J., brought a variety of music to brighten up the night. The majority of the school showed up to enjoy the dance.

The second dance, as decided, was called the "Basket-Ball." This particular dance was held directly after a game. The turnout was great, and the students had a "ball"

The next big dance to come about was the "Snowball". This dance was held during the wrestling and girl's basketball seasons. The turnout for the dance could have been better, but the kids who didn't go, didn't know what they missed. It was not only fun but the snowball fight was great

The dance of the year had to be Prom. The Juniors did an excellent job with the planning and the set up. The theme "Night in Paradise," was a perfect title, for the band was good, the students danced all night and the food was excellent

The dances throughout the year were all successes and all were enjoyable. Thanks to all who participated and helped out to make this past year a great one

Dept praised for concerts

From the first day of school to the last, the music department put in a lot of time and effort. This dedication and hard work paid off, though, in some interesting concerts.

This year the band played at three concerts and performed at several pep assemblies and basketball games. The band also received an excellent standing for their efforts at the Meet Festival.

The chorus ladies of Lexington very well this year performing at the enjoyable concerts Dinner Theater in November and first mass concert the "On The Air" program and a spring concert. The season's true performance at all of these in the excellent performance at Festival Theater as performed at all of the concerts except Dinner Theater and the excellent performance at Festival Theater.

Mr. Hughes said he was very pleased with the improvement in the students of the group. Festive remarks.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a formal communication, and it is written in a very formal and dignified style. The President expresses his regret that he cannot deliver the message in person, and he asks the Congress to excuse his absence. He then proceeds to discuss the state of the Union, and he mentions the recent election of Abraham Lincoln as President. He also mentions the secession of the Southern States, and he expresses his hope that the Union will be preserved.

- Row 1: Channa argus (a), Channa asiatica (b), Channa argus (c), Channa asiatica (d)
- Row 2: Channa argus (e), Channa asiatica (f), Channa argus (g), Channa asiatica (h)

Cougars games Defense wins

The Wind River Cougar Girl's Basketball had a tough beginning, still learning a new offense which worked well for them through out the season. The year was an exciting and complicated one, as the conference teams went through a see-saw season. Defense was a very important part of the games played this year. The team that was to win the Regional tournament this year, was the one who wanted it the most. The competition was tough for everyone. The Cougars headed to Regionals with a high potential standard wanting to win First.

The team's best complimented game for the season was at home against Basin. Mr. Sinner commented, "It's the best girl's basketball game, I've ever seen at W.R.H.S." Fans and parents were impressed as the girls improved their skills more and more each game. These skills perfected during the Regional Tournament at Dubois. The Cougars defeated Dubois to advance to the semi-finals. The girls went on to lose a heartbreaker to Shoshoni, but they held tough to eliminate Lovell and conquer Wyoming Indian High for third place, thus qualifying for State. Selected for the All-tournament team at Regionals were Brenda Swank and Vonda Wells.

At State in Rock Springs the following weekend, the Cougars had a good start, but they ran into a height disadvantage. The girls completed their season with a disappointing loss to Lusk.

Overall the Cougarettes had an aggressive and determined year.

 played a game on Monday at the gymnasium. The team won the game by a score of 35 to 20. The players were very good and played hard. The coach was very proud of the team's performance.

Cougars defy expectations

After a loss of eight seniors, the Cougars were said to have a rebuilding year. They, however, found many strength and became a team that saw a few losses, but they also showed their winning capabilities by placing third in the Five Rivers Regional Conference Tournament held at Lovell. Lovell was added to the Cougar's game schedule this year as well as teams from Glenrock, Rocky Mountain, Manderson and Greybull.

Though the Cougar team suffered the drastic drop in experience, they showed everyone they were still capable of obtaining the goals they set out to reach. With only four seniors on the team, the interclassmen rapidly completed the squad for Regionals and State. Five juniors and three freshman joined the four seniors to compose the varsity team coached by Mr. Van Derbos.

The coaches, varsity players and cheerleaders packed up and headed for Casper for the State Tournament. The tournament's games were played at the Events Center and Casper College. The Cougars did not make it to the final games, but they can be very proud, as they came home ranked seventh in the State.

Matt Fox and Ryan Roden showed outstanding abilities throughout the season as well as at the Regional Tournament. They subsequently were named to the All Conference Team at Regionals. Ryan continued to shine at the State Tournament and received the honor of being named to the All State Tournament Team as well.

Top Matt Fox, left, and Ryan Roden, right, both showed exceptional abilities throughout the season. Fox, a senior, was named to the All Conference Team at Regionals and the All State Tournament. Roden, a junior, was named to the All Conference Team at Regionals and the All State Tournament. Both players were named to the All State Tournament Team as well.

Cats wrestle up a victory

The Cougar team gave Coach Ulfelman a pleasant surprise at the Regional Tournament held this year at Greybull March 30 and 31 by placing second overall and by qualifying nine out of twelve members for the State meet held this year in Casper April 6 and 7. Qualifying for State this year was Brent Wilkes at 98-Regionals Champ, Sean Dunn at 105-Regionals Champ, Quentin Tiltman at 119-2nd, Vince Phillips at 126 — 3rd, John Morrison at 138-4th, Shawn Steffen at 155-3rd, Marvin Cox at 167 4th and Regional Champs Jerry Looney at 185 and Charlie Looney at HWT. At State, Charlie and Jerry placed second in their respective weight divisions, while Sean suffered an injury during his match for third and had to settle for fourth. Vince suffered an injury during the Regional meet which kept him from wrestling at the State meet.

Although this was a year full of injury for the Cougar team, they fared well at the matches they attended. The Cougars placed second at the Seaton and Basin tournaments fifth at the Don Runner and ninth at State. They also ended their season duels 6-3, a record that pleased Uffelman.

The team was supported well by six outstanding cheerleaders. Mickie Mantle, Gail Whitman, Shanel Wilcox, Tiffany Finch, Tina Noonan, and Mrs. Dean, Cheerleading sponsor.

Girl's track shined in '84

Despite the bad weather and injuries the Cougar team had a great year. They started the year off by attending the Riverston Invitational. Throughout the season, everyone tried to get the best time and to stand out in their field and track events. The team's last meet before Regionals was the Wind River Invitational, where the boys took first and the girls received third for their hard work.

At Regionals, although plagued by a few injuries, the boys ran into trouble. They were upset on the girls' times when they heard that they had placed third. This was the first time in the school's history that the girls team placed higher than the boys team.

State was held May 17-19 at Capital Square with the Cougar teams from the beginning as Matt Fox took the State long jump competition. The girls had a good start. Tori Walcott ran into third place in the 100 meter. At the meet, scheduled the next day, Brenda Nelson and Kari Kaden secured the high jump, taking 4th and 5th respectively. The girls' crew made points as Carol Walker and Linda Wenzel went out the final in their respective events. The boys' 4x100 relay team of Matt Fox, Tim Heron, Harley Walker, and Ed Aceda took 5th place.

Both the Cougar teams hard work during the season paid off at the end of the season and the boys placed 3rd at the State Meet.

The girls' crew made points as Carol Walker and Linda Wenzel went out the final in their respective events. The boys' 4x100 relay team of Matt Fox, Tim Heron, Harley Walker, and Ed Aceda took 5th place.

FHA explores

The Future Homemakers of America kicked off their year with the Leadership Training Day in Thermopolis. They attended the District IV Fall Meeting with all twelve members. The school social worker, Mrs. Shaw, presented a unit on family communication to the group to help the chapter on their project.

The FHA was also active within the school. They sponsored a chili supper during homecoming, and it was a success. The group also had a bottle-hoop booth at the Student Council Winter Carnival. The chapter hosted a Christmas party for the members. During FHA Week the group held a breakfast for the members.

Not only did the group work together but also individually. Several members worked on REACH projects and placed at the state meeting.

The team then went to a national fair in Kansas City where they placed ~~fourteenth~~ in the national dairy judging contest. As they were very good about the state of Kansas. We had a good time with the dairy judging contest.

Chapter 1011, which makes it possible for the chapter to participate in such activities for 1971. After supper, the chapter for the Crowheart and Chapter 1011, Crowheart, was the program. The HFA sent a representative to take a trip to Denver for the stock show in January. The activities during the National HFA week included a radio program, a family breakfast, agricultural, and a business day. The HFA participated in the Chapter and District 1011, Crowheart, but did not do as well as previous years. At state HFA Convention Laura W. was named star farmer from the Southwest Region and the Chapter received a superior rating.

The Chapter hosted a banquet on April 26th where two of us were guest. Mr. Sims was then announced as Chapter Sweetheart. Still another project the FFA sponsored was a radio program a speaker with the students were made and recorded.

By 1964, the chapter continued its enthusiasm and was active in many ways at the county and state fairs.

Skiers "bite the big one"

The skier that is most noticed on the slopes of Jackson Hole is the beginning skier. After falling down in line 3 times, he finally approaches the chairlift. He stands patiently awaiting the arrival of the chair. The second the chair touches his legs, he drops to the ground. After numerous attempts to get on the lift, the beginning skier finally reaches the top of the slope. His feet, however, aren't the first things to touch the snow. The skier tries for 5 min. to regain his composure, then he starts down the slope at a speed of 3 ft. per min. This treacherous speed, however, goes from 3 ft. per min. to 3 mph to 60 mph. The skier thinks, "How do I stop?" He then begins to gracefully sit on the snow, and SMACK with the help of a tree, he stops. The beginning skier is loaded onto a sled and rushed to the base of the mountain for immediate medical attention. For this reason, the beginning skier is the most noticed but the least seen skier on the mountain.

Honor society reached goal

The National Honor Society worked hard to maintain the society's ideals. The group is based on scholarship, service, leadership, and character. The club of eleven members sponsored a book fair for the elementary and middle school students which was a success. With the money they received from the book fair, the group enjoyed pizza at Pizza Hut and the movie, "Police Academy" at the Acme theater. They also purchased new overlays for the members to wear at graduation.

For a service project the members volunteered to usher at the awards assembly and at the graduation ceremony.

Twelve new members were inducted into the National Honor Society on Tuesday, May 8th at 7:30. These students were selected by a committee of teachers after they reviewed the candidate's applications.

With their various projects the Honor Society fulfilled their goals of promoting leadership, character, service, and scholarship.

Safety Club saving lives

Wanting to make the students more aware of the dangers involved in drinking and driving was one of the main purposes of the Wind River Youth Traffic Safety. This fall they sponsored a week long festival on accident prevention and driver safety. Throughout the year the group has provided many activities for the students such as essay and poster contests, safety tips on the morning announcements, and an information booth at the Winter Carnival.

Some of the members went to the Spring Youth Traffic Safety meeting held in Casper. John Newman was also selected to attend the National Traffic Safety Meeting held in Washington, D.C. as a representative for the Wyoming Division of Youth Traffic Safety.

W.R. corrals many buckles

This year's Rodeo Club was small but mighty. All of its ten strong members, Mark Nelson, Troy Runner, Brandi Galkowski, Laura Weliever, Kevin Annan, Mickie Mantle, Traci Lockhart, Keith Peterson, Dar Mantle and Kristan Howard fared well in the local competition held in Cheyenne, Laramie, Dubois, and Pavillion. Three of these members, Mickie, Traci and Dar, qualified at State to go to the National Rodeo Finals held in Douglas.

The rodeo hosted by the Rodeo Club in Pavillion this year was a real success as Dar Mantle won the All-around title. A lot of parents contributed their time and effort to add to the rodeo's success.

SENIORS

Commencement was emotional

May, 20, 1984 thirty four seniors worked their way into the hearts of hundreds of people. The gymnasium glowed with the love felt for this daring and energetic class.

Ken Smith, Salutatorian, presented the welcoming address. He stated the class was like a diamond in the rough and time and polishing would only add to its brilliance. Scholarships of nearly ninety thousand dollars were presented to 74% of the class (see page 14).

The ceremony steadily built to an emotional high through the performance of the Select Chorus, Laura Welhever's theme address, Joe Campbell's memory laced speech and finally to Vicki Lund's appropriately selected song, "I'm never going to say good bye."

Even Mr. Blackwell found it difficult to avoid showing emotion as he introduced the class to the audience and school board. Bruce Westlake, vice chairman of the board presented the diplomas as Mrs. Conwell gave each graduate a single red rose.

Class whined & dined '84'

The Star Plunge was the first stop for the twenty seniors participating in the senior trip. The majority went swimming while a few checked into their motel rooms. The swimmers demonstrated their physical finesse as they played basketball, had chicken fights and went diving. Afterwards everyone gathered in the park to have a BBQ. Later a few went to see a movie while some stayed behind at the Holiday Inn to burn up the racquetball court.

The night passed quickly, and it was once again time to eat; this time a lavish breakfast. Seniors and sponsors dragged themselves from revitalizing sleep, nourished their bodies, loaded the bus and headed to Cody.

The Buffalo Bill Museum was the major attraction, and after a few hours of informative sightseeing it was lunch time. Everyone pigged out at the Green Gables, and then terrorized the town. It was an eventful two days that will be lodged in the minds of those who participated for a very long time.

Seniors set pace for underclassmen.

Senior class officers for 1984 are: back VPres. Suzy B., front, Ken S., Pres Laura W. Treas. Vince P. Sec

The class of 1984 stepped into the roles of seniors with what seemed like utter disbelief that they were really on the top at last; the leaders of the school. At first it was hard to accept this responsible role, but as the year wore on it seemed natural to be looked upon. By Christmas time many seniors were filing out scholarship applications in preparation for college. Being an academic class at heart, they made a deep impression on the freshmen: the classes developed a good rapport

The class of '84 won the spirit stick, the class skit, the class yell, the float at Homecoming. The seniors proved that they were genuinely enthusiastic.

This class has made its lasting impression on Wind River High, and will definitely be missed by all in the years to come by all who knew them

The first of these was the fact that the new law, which was passed in 1911, gave the Government the right to take over any railway which was not working properly. This was a very important step, as it gave the Government the power to ensure that the railways were run efficiently and that the public interest was protected.

PEOPLE

Jrs. aim high

The Juniors were a very active group this year. They were kept busy by selling concessions during the boy's basketball season. They also sold magazines and held a slave sale in preparation for Prom. Prom was held on May 5th at the Eagles Club. The class was also very successful with a sandwich and pie sale at the Wyoming Indian High game.

The sponsors and juniors worked together to come up with a Parent Advisory Board. This was to help the juniors with concessions.

The juniors started off the school year with the second largest class. The leaders of the class were: President, Jud Burrows; Vice President, Scott Dean; Treasurer, Bob Hutchins; and Secretary, Tina Portlock. The junior class sponsors were Miss Nelson, Mrs. Oberhe, and Mr. Slack.

The junior class looked forward to becoming seniors and the leaders of Wind River High School.

Soph. strive to survive

The sophomore class at Went River High School started off the year by electing Fanny Woodrski as their President. Also elected was Charles Wilson, Vice President, and the group records and Robert Felt as Treasurer. The sophomore sports were Mr. Howard, Mr. Nyberg and Mr. Sinnet.

During Homecoming week the sophomores participated in a skit but were disappointed when their first skit was canceled by the weather.

For money making projects the sophomore class was busy during the boy winter festival at home and rattled off a belt buckle in December.

The sophomores are looking forward to next year and all the upcoming events of an upperclassman.

Looking good and getting better

The freshmen started out with the largest class of the school year 1983-84 and had an average of fifteen people on the honor roll all year

The freshmen learned a lot about high school. For Ms. Jones, they published a school paper called COUGAR UPDATE and read "Romeo & Juliet". During their health class, Mrs. Shaw & Mrs. Bryant assisted Mr. Oakley by teaching Family Living

Throughout the year, the freshmen participated in several events. Homecoming week they had a skit at the bonfire, a float for halftime and were sold as slaves for the upperclassmen. The class sold concessions for Girl's Basketball and manned a booth at the Student Council Carnival.

The three sponsors who helped the freshmen through the year were Ms. Stearns, Mr. Gommendi, and Mr. Oakley. The class officers for the year were Pres. Tim L; Vice-Pres. Craig B; treas. Brant N; and Sec. Lisa D.

They Inspire!

There were two new teachers added this year to the faculty. They are Joy Funk, Spanish, Patty Sattor, Sophomore and Linda Johnston, Reading Program.

The teachers didn't participate in Homecoming this year as they had done in the past but they did a lot of other things. They tried a new method of recording grades on the Computer. Some of the teachers took the skit club to Jackson and performed the cheerleaders. The faculty sponsored dances, concessions, parent teacher conferences and they did a really good job. I think of the teachers for all their help in making sure things got done.

Mrs. Conwell the high school secretary did a swell job this year. She worked extra hours and did odds and ends for the students. She lets the students use the office phone and she had office aides. Mrs. Conwell put together all the books and manages the money in the office.

WRHS makes improvements

WRHS was improved this year. Some of the large windows were replaced with smaller windows. Fire proof doors were added to the classrooms in the lower part of the school. All of these improvements were done to meet fire codes.

The janitors did an exceptional job of keeping up with the improvements. Mr. Hudson was hired as the head custodian. He motivated the crew well, as they painted several of the classrooms and made sure the messes made by the students were taken care of. They also kept the school running smoothly despite many mechanical problems. Further improvements will possibly be made after the bond election next year.

One part of Wind River that did not need improvements was the kitchen. The cooks did a swell job getting the students fed. They put in a lot of long hours preparing meals for the mob.

Top right: The computerized report on the fire seems to bother Mr. Quayle. Center right: Mrs. Nelson sits back and relaxes. Bottom: Mrs. Smith is taking her "over the hill" tarantula out for its daily walk, which she shared. Miss Nelson thinks it would be better if it is gone better yet dead. Below: Mr. Smith is taking the Wyoming tarantula for the year, works in his office planning out the FFA yearly activities.

ADVERTISEMENTS

As an extra special feature for graduating seniors, the 1984 yearbook staff presented parents with an opportunity to recognize their favorite student. The staff would like to extend that honor graduate to those and send them the best wishes.

Kevin Annan. Miss tears term paper rodeo Mr Singer for being crazy Denver talk in w graduation my classmate and the fun times we had and how Mr back was accepted with FFA

John Morrison: Miss Stearns correcting my English. FFA and some very neat and innovative leadership.

Coy Krata: I will always remember the term paper and graduation and all the classmates that left.

Vonda Wells: Basketball But most of all the people

Cris Denke: They were all at the right school. They were just in the wrong place. I met and how they were a way, trying to break the ties with the family, leaving apart the building. They said they were not the same. I did not.

Vicki Lund Varysah, owner of Kellie's party and event planning, paper party, party planning and wedding services, says that the company is doing well. She says that the company is doing well and that she is happy to be a part of it.
